TYPES OF ADOPTIONS - The following four types of adoptions are available in California for children under 18 years of age:

- Agency (Relinquishment) Adoption: Adoption of children who are placed for adoption by a public or licensed private adoption agency that has custody of the child as the result of either the parent(s) voluntarily relinquishing their legal rights to the agency or involuntary termination of parents' legal rights by the court.
- Independent Adoption (I): Parent(s) place directly with prospective adoptive parent(s) for the purpose of adoption. Only the CDSS regional and field offices and delegated counties provide services under the Independent Adoption Program.
  - Role of the adoptive parents Independent Adoption: Once the placement is made, the prospective adoptive parent must file a petition in the superior court of the county in which they reside. They must include the Adoption Placement Agreement with the petition.
  - Role of the CDSS or delegated county adoption agency: The CDSS or delegated county agency is required by law to investigate the adoptive family home and circumstances of placement to determine whether the child is a proper subject for adoption and whether or not the prospective adoptive family will enable the child to develop to his/her best potential. The agency must complete the investigation and submit a report to the court with recommendations regarding the adoption within 180 days of the filing of the adoption petition, unless an extension has been granted by the court.

- Intercountry Adoption: Adoption of foreign-born children for whom federal law makes a special immigration visa available. Intercountry adoption may be finalized in the child's native country or in California.
- Stepparent Adoption: Stepparents may adopt the children of their spouses. Local county probation or welfare departments handle these adoptions. For more information, contact your local probation or child welfare department.

FEES – Fees are set by law for public agencies (maximum of $500 for agency adoptions and $4,500 for an independent adoption). Private agencies charge varying fees depending on the services provided.

CDSS ADOPTIONS REGIONAL OFFICES – CDSS Adoption Regional Offices provide independent adoption services in specific counties (see areas served). In addition, CDSS Adoption Regional Offices provide agency adoption services in those counties that do not have a public adoption agency.

COUNTY (PUBLIC) ADOPTION AGENCIES – County child welfare departments provide agency adoption services. In addition, independent adoption services are provided by those county welfare departments delegated by the CDSS to study and report to the court when county residents file independent adoption petitions.

LICENSED PRIVATE ADOPTION SERVICES – Private adoption agencies are licensed to provide direct adoption services. These services vary from agency to agency and are defined by their license. Questions about specific services provided should be addressed to the individual agency.

TYPES OF ADOPTION LICENSES – The following is a listing of the types of licenses issued to private adoption agencies.

- Full Service (FS): An adoption agency authorized to assume care, custody and control of a relinquished child. It also authorizes the agency to assess birth parents and prospective adoptive parents, place a child for adoption, supervise that adoptive placement, and to remove a child from an unsuitable adoptive placement.
- Noncustodial (NC): A license that authorizes an adoption agency to work in cooperation with a full service agency to match prospective adoptive parents with children who are under the care, custody and control of the full service agency. Noncustodial agencies are also authorized under this license to assess prospective adoptive families and, in cooperation with full service agencies, to supervise adoptive placements, but are not authorized to remove a child from an unsuitable placement. A noncustodial agency cannot assume care, custody and control of a child, nor can they make adoptive placements.

- Inter-country (ICA): A license that authorizes an adoption agency to provide adoption services to finalize the adoption of foreign born children either in the child's native country (Non-custodial) or in California (Full-Service).
- An Inter-country license is issued only to private adoption agencies. County adoption agencies do not provide Inter-country adoption services
